April 2016

We're springing into April in the library. It is also National Poetry Month. Pick out a poetry book to share with your family in the next few weeks. Poems offer the flexibility needed for our often busy lives. You can read as many or as few as you have time for. Rhyming poems help reluctant readers enjoy the magic and fun of words. Shel Silverstein and Jack Prelutsky are probably the most popular elementary school favorites, but other suggested poets include Douglas Florian and J. Patrick Lewis.

Enjoy the month in POETRY!

Digital Safety Tip

Review privacy settings: look at the privacy settings available on social networking sites, cell phones, and other social tools your children use. Decide which settings provide the appropriate amount of protection for each of your children. - See more at: <https://www.staysafeonline.org/stay-safe-online/for-parents/raising-digital-citizens> .

A huge thank you is extended to Courtney Dicmas, Eastview Alum, who visited from Madison. She entertained us with wonderful pictures and stories of her adventures from countries afar.

Any book that helps a child to form a habit of reading, to make reading one of her deep and continuing needs, is good for him.
